FRENCH CITY IS PREPARING FOR THE AMERICANS

Fine Arrangements For the Officers and Enlisted Men

NEW HEADQUARTERS WILL SOON BE IN READINESS

Royal Welcome Awaits the Newcomers Who Are to Arrive From Paris

(Associated Press Telegram)
City of Central France, Thursday, Jan. 10.—Although the influx of hundreds of staff officers belonging to the lines of communication branch of the American army has not yet begun and although their transfer from Paris here is supposed to be a deep secret, this beautiful little city in central France is already aware that it will soon be host to the newest allies. American flags are already waving from many buildings and the citizens are in a state of suppressed excitement, preparing what promises to be a most enthusiastic welcome to the newcomers.

The preparations for the advent of the Americans, numbering several hundred officers and twice as many assistants—clerks, stewards and military workers—are, most completed; so that when the men begin to arrive in a day or two, each one will find comfortable quarters arranged for him either in some of the half dozen good hotels here or in private houses that have been rented by the advance scouts.

They will find themselves quartered "for the duration of the war" in one of France's healthiest and most beautiful cities, where cleanliness apparently has been made a cardinal virtue, where food, especially fresh vegetables in season and dairy products are plentiful, where the water supply offers none of the drawbacks that must be contended with close behind the front, and from which they can operate fully as advantageously centrally as from Paris.

For weeks a staff headed by a major with eight officer assistants and many enlisted men, has been combing the city for most desirable quarters. All available hotel rooms have been engaged and private houses have been rented until the end of the war. Rooms also have been engaged in private homes for additional officers who may come here. A big clerical force will be distributed in part among the families of the city—who, almost without exception, are enthusiastic over the opportunity of playing host to the Americans—and in part will be housed in huge barracks in the outskirts of the city.

The new headquarters will from the outset be operated with a view to the greatest possible comfort of the men and the least possible disturbance of local conditions. Thus, one of the first moves will be to install a "sales commissary" at which foodstuffs brought from America will be sold at less than the market price, if possible, so that the presence of the Americans will not have the effect of forcing up prices, to the distress of the inhabitants.

Only fresh vegetables, milk, eggs and such commodities will be purchased and for the present at least, no effort will be made to establish maximum prices for these articles for fear the supply will vanish as it has elsewhere. Officers' messes will not be arranged for the present, because the food available here is extraordinarily good and plentiful. But the men living in barracks will undoubtedly have their own tables.

END OF NEW YORK'S FAMED NIGHT LIFE SOON TO TAKE PLACE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Jan. 11.—With New York's coal supply dwindling almost to the vanishing point, and shipments far below normal, fuel administrator gave further consideration to far reaching conservative plans. The early closing of cabarets, saloons and theatres probably will be the first drastic measure to be adopted, it was said, which will mean a virtual ending of the city's famed "night life." The proposal already has brought a storm of protests from all sections.

A canvass of the city by the police shows the situation to be "alarming," among both rich and poor, according to the reports filed with Mayor Ryan. Only one building in every 50 has a normal supply of fuel, the reports state, while in many districts, one in every 20 building is absolutely without coal.

To help relieve conditions, the city has operated many supply stations for small dealers who sell in basket measures to the poor. A ticket system also has been arranged for the needy families.

HOUSE PASSES SUFFRAGE ACT; UP TO SENATE

Wild Demonstration Greeted Announcement of the Vote

HAD ONLY THE NECESSARY MAJORITY OF TWO-THIRDS

Resolution As Adopted Calls For Submission Amendment to States

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Jan. 11.—Woman suffrage was a step nearer realization today as the result of the victory in the house last night when a resolution authorizing submission to the states of the Susan B. Anthony amendment for national enfranchisement of women was passed. The vote, 374 to 136, exact the required two-thirds majority and but for Speaker Clark's promise to cast his vote for the chair in favor of the resolution, if needed, the change of a single vote to the opposition would have meant defeat. Republican Leader Mann and Representative Sims, both of whom came to the house from sick beds, fought the votes which settled the issue.

So close was the contest that a recapitulation was asked and the announcement of the final vote was greeted with wild cheering and cheering from the women who thronged the galleries.

The resolution as adopted by the house calls for submission to the states of the so-called Susan B. Anthony amendment and unlike the prohibition amendment recently approved does not limit the time that may be taken to complete action on the part of the necessary three-fourths of the state legislatures.

A resolution was sent to the senate today and suffrage champions at once began their campaign in the upper house. Recent polls of the senate indicate that the necessary two-thirds could not be mustered there and a vote may not be forced until advocates find they have the strength with which to put it through.

President Wilson's unexpected support of the amendment, assigned as one of the reasons for the house victory, is counted on by suffragists to carry great weight in the senate. A similar resolution was voted down by the senate several years ago.

GOVERNMENT READY TO OUTLINE PLAN FOR RAILROADS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Jan. 11.—Explanation of the administration's railroad bill begins before the senate today with Director General McAdoo ready to outline the government's plan for legislation deemed necessary to bring about complete control of the roads.

Opposition to the government's scheme of indefinite control and reimbursement on the basis of average earnings for the next three years, already has been voiced before the committee by railroad executives testifying on various phases of the bill. An amendment has been introduced to insure the return of the road to private interests at the end of the war and suggestion has been made that the roads be compensated on a two-year basis as the earnings of 1915 fell below normal.

Statements of the railroad experts probably will be resumed next week when A. P. Thom, general counsel for the railway executives' advisory committee will be permitted to make a legal argument on the bill.

Director General McAdoo was informed yesterday by A. H. Smith, assistant in charge of transportation of the eastern lines that the traffic situation had been improved sufficiently to guarantee that there would be no further coal famine anywhere this winter. Local shortages might continue, he said, but no important industries will be forced to shut down for lack of fuel.

The director general also conferred with express company officers and discussed the possibility of government operation and it was said that the director's advisory board would recommend in a few days that government control would be extended to them.

PEACE TERMS MADE PUBLIC AT BREST-LITOVSK ARE WITHDRAWN BY TEUTONS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Amsterdam, Jan. 11.—The central powers have withdrawn their peace terms made public at the Brest-Litovsk conference on December 25, it was announced by Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, in his speech at the Brest-Litovsk conference with the Russians yesterday.

Owing to the non-acceptance by all the enemy powers of those terms, Dr. von Kuehlmann stated, the document had "become null and void." Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, at a full sitting of the peace conference at Brest-Litovsk on Thursday, said that as Russia's allies had not replied to the invitation to participate in the negotiations, it was now a question of a separate peace between Russia and the central powers.

He gave reasons for not wishing to transfer the negotiations to neutral territory and said that if the Russians were animated by the same intentions as the central powers the result of the negotiations would be satisfactory. If not responsibility for war would fall exclusively on the Russians.

Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German foreign minister, said he considered that difficulties which had interrupted the previous negotiations were not sufficient to justify the failure of the peace work and to presume resumption of hostilities. He said that it was the fixed and unchangeable determination of the central powers not to conduct elsewhere the peace negotiations begun at Brest-Litovsk.

A Brest-Litovsk dispatch giving an account of the session yesterday says it was opened at 11 o'clock, all the delegations, including the Ukrainians, participating. Talat Bey, the Turkish grand vizier, called the meeting to order and turned over the chair to Dr. von Kuehlmann, who said:

"Inasmuch as changes have occurred in the composition of some of the delegations it will not be out of place to give a short survey of the history of the course of the negotiations."

After a lengthy review of the proceedings to date, Dr. von Kuehlmann said he hoped they would lead to a salutary result. His hope was based on knowledge gained during the negotiations and on the expression by the Russian delegation of the Russian people's wish for secure and lasting peace. He continued:

"I consider that the difficulties met with up to the time the negotiations were interrupted were not great enough to cause the failure of the peace work and presumably resumption of war in the east with its unforeseen consequences."

The central powers peace terms of December 25 were voiced by Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister. They expressed willingness to conclude "general peace without forcible annexations and indemnities" and announced that it was not the intention of the central powers to deprive of political independence those nations which had lost it during the war, but stipulated that the question of the political independence of nationalities not now possessing it could not be solved internationally but must be left to each government and its people. This qualified recognition of the right of self-determination was made use of in the concrete terms for a treaty later proposed to Russia by the central powers, in which it is claimed that this right had already been exercised in Poland, Courland and Lithuania. The refusal of the central powers to consent to the withdrawal of their troops from these lands led to the temporary interruption of the negotiations and the counter proposal by the Russians that further discussions of peace be transferred to Stockholm, which question apparently was still pending when the full sitting of the peace conference was called to order yesterday.

In offering their terms the central powers stated that they desired to bring about a general peace negotiations the Russians apparently being expected to influence the allied governments to join in the parleys. A ten day limit for the contents to express itself was set, but no response was forthcoming from the entente powers. Since the expiration of this period on January 1 it has been unofficially stated that the central powers felt free to withdraw their offer, which was conditioned upon a general peace being brought about.

REQUEST SPECIAL CLASSIFICATION FOR YOUNG MEN ON FARM

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Jan. 11.—Special classification in the draft for young men of cities and towns who will work on farms similar to that given shipyard workers are asked of the war department in resolutions adopted yesterday by the Association of State Presidents of Farmers' Unions.

Local exemption boards were asked in another resolution to designate as skilled farm laborers, entitled to deferred classification, "any man who understands and knows how to do farm work" rather than as graduates of agricultural schools. The association is composed of heads of farmers unions in thirteen southern states.

SALESMAN KILLED BY CLEVELAND MAN FOR RUINING HOME

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—Solution of Cleveland's newest murder tragedy—the shooting and killing of Chas. L. Joyce, traveling salesman for a New York cloth firm, by Elmer Hupp, a Cleveland oil and gas developer, in a Cleveland home last night—today seemed to hinge on statements that may be made to police by the 13 year old daughter of the confessed murderer when she is questioned today.

Hupp was in county jail today with a first degree murder charge against him. According to Hupp's own statement he shot and killed Joyce last night when he discovered him in his home in Lakewood, Hupp told Lakewood police he killed Joyce because of the attentions the latter had evidenced toward his wife, Mrs. Elmer Hupp.

"It was because of my love for my wife that I shot Joyce," said Hupp. The "unwritten law" is expected to be invoked in the defense of Hupp, according to Hupp's friends.

Hupp is a partner in the Rushville Drilling and Producing Company with extensive oil and gas interests in western states and is said to have become wealthy in the business.

Recently Hupp gave his wife a check for $100,000 as a present it is said.

PROPOSE STATE TAKE OVER STREET RAILWAYS

Boston, Jan. 11.—A referendum to determine whether the state should take over the street railways is proposed in a bill presented in the legislature yesterday and endorsed by the state branch of the federation of labor. The bill proposes that the state take the roads July 1, 1919, providing the people vote in favor of this action at the November elections.

ANOTHER SNOWSTORM VISITS WINDY CITY

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The snow storm forecast for this vicinity last night by the weather bureau began today, adding to the inconvenience caused by the record breaking snow fall of last Sunday, which has not yet been cleared from the outlying streets. The snow today, however, was light and was not accompanied by wind which piled up great drifts during the previous storms.

FIVE YOUNG PEOPLE BADLY INJURED WHEN COASTER CRASHED INTO TELEPHONE POLE

Five persons were injured, three of them seriously when a hoisted on the South Second street hill crashed into a telephone pole while the sled was going at a terrific rate. Merwin Bingham, 244 Buckingham street, had his left leg broken; Miss Freda Siegel, living in Fleet avenue, had her right leg broken, and Miss Esther Sunkel of South Second street, had her ankle broken and her right eye badly injured.

The party was on a hoisted sled guided by Bingham. When the sled swerved suddenly in the middle of the street and struck a telephone pole, all of them were thrown off. Two ambulances were called and the injured were taken to the City hospital and Sanitarium. Bingham was taken to the City hospital where Dr. Victor Turner attended him. He suffered a compound fracture of the lower left leg and other bruises and injuries.

Miss Siegel had a broken right leg, and was injured about the head. Miss Sunkel broke her ankle, and her right eye is badly confused, and she suffered other body bruises. Both are at the Sanitarium. Warner Palmer had his shoulder dislocated, and was badly bruised, and Edward Bomer had his head injured and a tooth knocked out.

This is the second accident. Ronald Meekley, living on South Second street, suffered a compound fracture of the arm, Wednesday night, coasting on the hill.

PROTESTS OF TROTSKY TO BE IGNORED

Central Powers Endeavor to Establish Separate Russian Peace

BOLSHEVIKI TO DECLARE WAR AGAINST GERMANY

Premier Declares if Russian Peace Terms Are Not Accepted

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Peace negotiations between Russia and the central powers will be continued at Brest-Litovsk, according to information in Amsterdam, apparently, despite a vigorous protest by Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, who heads the Russian delegation. At the opening of the new sitting of the conference Trotsky demanded that the delegates go to Stockholm.

Premier Lenin before leaving Petrograd ostensibly for Finland, but probably for Stockholm for conference with Austrian and German socialists, declared that if the central powers do not accept Russian peace terms the Bolsheviks will declare war against Germany. He expressed fear that preparation would have to be made for hostilities.

The establishment of a separate peace with Russia apparently is the present aim of the central powers. According to Amsterdam dispatches Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, told the peace conference at Brest-Litovsk that inasmuch as Russia's allies had not replied to the invitation to take part in the negotiations a separate peace is now the question at issue. While opposing the transfer of the peace conference to neutral territory Count Czernin is said to have declared that if the Russians were animated by the same intentions as the representatives of the central powers the result of the negotiations would be satisfactory.

Initial comment in the German and Austrian press on President Wilson's message is bitterly hostile. His program is declared to be unacceptable and one pan-German paper says it is "more brutal still" than the recent statement of Premier Lloyd George. The President is accused of desiring to hinder the Brest-Litovsk negotiations and Vienna newspapers declare that his peace conditions are such as could only be imposed on the central powers if they were defeated completely.

British troops in the Ypres area have executed successfully three raids into the German lines. Many casualties were inflicted and prisoners were taken.

On the remainder of the front in France the artillery on both sides is active, especially in Flanders in the Arras-Cambrai area. In Champagne the northeast of Verdun. The artillery fighting on the northern Italian front is less intense, being most marked east of the Brenita.

Discussion of the French government's diplomatic conduct of the war will be heard in the chamber of deputies today. The government has announced that it will accept such discussion.

NEW ARMY IS BEING RAISED IN RUSSIA BY THE BOLSHEVIKI

London, Jan. 11.—Confirming previous reports that the Bolsheviks are preparing to re-establish the fighting power of the army against a possible final break in the negotiations with the central powers, the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily News, says that they are not attempting to re-animate the old, worn-out army, but to create a new and much smaller one. Concerning this new army, Foreign Minister Trotsky is reported to have said:

"It will wage not war but revolution. Its front trenches will be barricades against oppressors."

The Bolsheviks doubt whether the German soldiers will advance, but if they do and take more territory they will be no nearer an end of the war. The correspondent says that the greatest difficulties of the Bolsheviks in these preparations are transport and supply, of which the former is the less hopeful question. Ensign Krylenko, the Bolshevik commander-in-chief, is reported to be organizing a volunteer army and has ordered all officers to return to the posts they held before the Bolshevik revolution.

In reference to the civil wars in different parts of Russia the correspondent says they are not due to one part of Russia against another but attempts to spread class-warfare in those parts where the proletariat has not yet obtained the upper hand. Thus, the Bolsheviks are not warring against the Ukraine but against the Bourgeoisie Ukrainian Rada; not with the Cossack country, but with the military government of the Cossacks.

WAR SECRETARY IS GRILLED BY COMMITTEEMEN

Members of Senate Military Board Not In Accord With Baker

CLAIM HIS DECLARATIONS MISLEADING TO COUNTRY

Knowledge of Any Labor Troubles On Contracts Denied By Secretary

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Jan. 11.—Secretary Baker's examination today before the senate military committee was warmed up by a rapid cross fire of questions by senators of both parties who did not agree with the generally favorable view of war preparations depicted by Mr. Baker's statement of yesterday.

The senators declared his declarations that war supplies were adequate would mislead the country. Senator Weeks declared the country "should not be lulled to sleep by a general statement of facts that don't exist."

Mr. Baker explained that he meant to convey only the impression that all the men ready for the fighting line were adequately equipped.

Senators Wadsworth and Weeks, Republican, and Senators Chamberlain and Hitchcock, Democrats, took the lead in cross examining the secretary and at times handled him without gloves.

When Secretary Baker's examination was resumed Senator Chamberlain said there were fears for powder production.

"The situation is satisfactory, and I think supplies are and will continue adequate," replied Secretary Baker.

Senator Wadsworth asked about the board of labor standards which testimony has said has pacifists and socialists among its members and is requiring new specifications in army cloth contracts which will reduce production.

"I know their character and expert qualifications well," said Secretary Baker in reference to the board. Senator Wadsworth said the board's requirements were so rigid that production of army garments are being delayed.

Any delay is slight, Secretary Baker said, and health of factory workers is an important consideration.

"I must disagree with you that the delay is slight," said Senator Wadsworth.

Senator Wadsworth said a witness had testified the board's contract standards threaten to cause strikes and requires employers to receive labor leaders. He thought labor agitators would stir up trouble.

Mr. Baker denied knowledge that any considerable number of contractors were refusing to execute contracts because of the new labor standards.

Senator Weeks thought the board had too large and very drastic powers, but Mr. Baker contended the board's functions are purely advisory.

Senator Weeks challenged the statement that the board was only advisory and complained of the multiplicity of new and special boards and committees.

"Persons with business are passed along from corridor to corridor and building to building trying to find the right federal agency with which to do business," said the senator.

Turning to artillery, Senator Wadsworth assailed the ordnance bureau for not continuing manufacture of French 24 millimeter guns. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.)

CRAWLS TO HOUSE AFTER INJURY AND IS FOUND BY WIFE

(Special to The Advocate)

Pataskala, O., Jan. 11.—C. N. Alward, 38, well-known retired farmer, living here, was seriously injured Thursday when a 700-pound barn door fell on him.

Mr. Alward, who lives in the village, visited his farm in the morning to do some work. The farm is unattended and as he was working about the farm the heavy barn door fell on him. Although seriously injured he knew there was no one to give the alarm so he crawled to the house, which is furnished, and got to the bed. As he had promised to return by noon, his wife became alarmed when he had not returned late in the afternoon and an investigation was made. He was found suffering terribly.

Dr. C. D. Watkins was called and found that he had suffered internal injuries. He is resting more comfortably today, but his condition is considered serious.

The accident happened at 11 o'clock and he was not found until 5 o'clock in the evening.

When the proposition was submitted to the high school students this morning it developed that at least 100 of the students had already opened war savings accounts by buying Thrift stamps or War Savings stamps.

The Newark picture shows are now flashing a war savings slide at each entertainment and beginning tonight the Four Minute men, under the direction of Chairman H. F. Moninger will speak at the several theatres on the Thrift campaign.

Manager A. E. Willert of the Woolworth store, said today that his salesforce will take an active part in promoting the sale of Thrift stamps and that he will open a Thrift account for every clerk in the store. The store will, of course, have stamps for sale to the public and it is expected that every other store in town will do the same thing.

ter even better than in Paris, sanitation excellent and the houses clean—although they have been fumigated twice as a precaution—and everything modern to a surprising degree. Arrangements have already been completed whereby the American forces can draw from the French all necessary fuel; thus there will be no suffering from what at this time is unusually cold weather. The American officers have found the mayor and other city officials ready for cooperation in the fullest degree. The quarters, in the main, have been secured by the mayor, who asked the citizens to show their patriotism by giving up a portion of their houses to their American allies. The payment will be liberal, and not on the one franc per day basis as in war zone towns, where billeting is the system, with this official maximum. The Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. have already established branches here.

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feed good. none of which have been delivered, and whose ammunition is not interchangeable with the French. Secretary Baker said he thought, but was not sure, that the department was making the French type and promised to give further information.

Senator Wadsworth asked whether in view of the shortage of artillery and machine guns the secretary's statement that there were sufficient supplies "substantially for rush needs" was correct.

"Yes, perfectly, as I understand it," said Mr. Baker. "Our rush needs are satisfied."

Senator Chamberlain asked Mr. Baker how he could say that when cannoneers were short of rifles and machine guns and artillery.

"I mean that we have sufficient for the men actually engaged in fighting," Mr. Baker replied earnestly. "Is that all the troops in France?" Senator McKellar asked.

"Your statement that we have substantially enough gives a wrong impression to the country, when we have only enough for men actually in the fighting and not for those in training," Senator Wadsworth interjected.

"I agree with Senator Wadsworth," said Chairman Chamberlain, "that your statement gives a wrong impression to the country. It is not our purpose, but it is its effect."

"What I want to say and what I want the country to understand," Mr. Baker replied earnestly, "is that all the troops in France will be adequately equipped with artillery and arms."

Reverting to delays in machine guns deliveries, Senator Hitchcock asked for tardy contracts for Lewis guns and Mr. Baker replied that large production of Browning guns would begin in February.

This aroused Senator Hitchcock. "That isn't so," he retorted sharply, slapping his hands together at the secretary. "We won't have a large quantity before 1919 in actual use. We haven't one now."

"We have nine," Mr. Baker suggested. "Smile, Senator," he added that production was being speeded up and at his latest information was that quantity production of the Browning guns would begin in February.

During the rapid cross questioning, the secretary was apparently at a loss for a cigar and answering all questions calmly.

NEGRO CONFESSES TO FIRING HOTEL

Columbus, Jan. 11.—John Reynolds, 21, negro, confessed today to starting the fire which destroyed the Tremont hotel, causing the death of A. J. and Emma Legore in Circleville Wednesday night, according to State Fire Marshal T. Alfred Fleming. Reynolds in a written confession declared he was paid $25, given a black horse and allowed what he owed on another horse by Cecil Runkle, 25, white, a resident of Circleville. Runkle had an automobile in a barn in the rear of the hotel, where the fire was started, on which he had the day before taken out $300 insurance, according to information furnished the fire marshal's office.

Reynolds told State Deputy Fire Warden J. P. Hershberger and Luther M. Hall, Fire Chief Baer, of Circleville inspecting him. Circleville inspectors, who started the fire in the barn and it burned 20 minutes, called the fire department when flames spread to the hotel.

A. J. Legore, 64, and his wife, 55, died in the flames. They were trapped on the third floor of the hotel and not missed until too late to rescue them.

The negro said in his confession that the death of the two had worried him.

Fire Marshal Fleming instructed that charges of arson and second degree murder be filed against both Reynolds and Runkle, who are under arrest in Circleville.

BIG DEMAND FOR STAMPS.
The supply of Thrift stamps was again exhausted at the Newark postoffice this morning, though Postmaster Mercer said that a quantity of the War Savings stamps, a telegram was sent to Washington this morning urging the department to speed the delivery of 20,000 War Savings stamps and 5000 Thrift stamps. Mr. Mercer promises to keep putting in requisitions in order to supply the growing demand for stamps. Mr. W. S. Needham, Jr., was down from Pataskata today bringing a large number of savings stamps for Pataskata people. The supply at the Pataskata postoffice was temporarily exhausted.

SUPREME COURT ISSUES TEMPORARY ORDER IN A TELEPHONE RATE CASE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Jan. 11.—A temporary restraining order to prohibit Judge Robert M. Morgan and the common pleas court of Cuyahoga county from issuing an injunction or further hearing an injunction case to prohibit the Cleveland Telephone Company (Bell) from enforcing its new service rates which went into effect January 1, was issued today by the Ohio supreme court.

The supreme court will hold a hearing January 23 to determine whether the temporary injunction shall be made permanent. The net value of the Cleveland Telephone Company since April 1, 1914, has been practically doubled, according to a new valuation filed by the company under order of the public utilities commission today. The new value is as of November 30, 1917, and additions in the month of December are yet to be reported. The commission's valuation as of April 1, 1914, was $7,600,763. The company's own valuation of additions since last time is fixed at $6,002,951, making a total valuation December 1, 1917 of $13,604,714.

In its efforts to secure permission for higher telephone rates in Cleveland, the telephone company declared to the utilities commission that its plant had increased in value materially and that the old valuation figures were not representative.

Argument on a petition for rehearing filed by the city of Cleveland before the commission will be conducted this afternoon. The city of Cleveland, in its petition, claims that the increased rates are unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory and preferential. It also is charged that the telephone service is not adequate and that the city, although a user of service, was denied the right to protest against the new schedule, effective January 1.

OVERRULLED THE MOTION

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—Common Pleas Judge Morgan late yesterday overruled a motion made by attorneys for the Cleveland Telephone Company asking dismissal of the city's injunction suit which seeks to prevent the company from raising its rates. Judge Morgan decided that the city's home rule charter gives the city council full control and power to regulate telephone rates and service within the city.

MUST RUSH AMERICAN SOLDIERS TO EUROPE QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE

London, Jan. 11.—Winston Spencer Churchill, British minister of munitions, addressing the American Luncheon club today, made a powerful appeal for the sending of American soldiers to Europe quickly and in as large numbers as possible.

The reception of Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson's war aims by the central powers, the minister declared, showed a gulf that no bridge could span. He added that Great Britain and the United States having issued their war aims they must now bend every effort to the practical work of enforcing them on the enemy.

"We have found a complete agreement on our war aims," Mr. Churchill said, "so let us concentrate our whole souls on practical measures whereby those aims may be achieved."

England must melt all her resources, he continued, into war work. Women must draw nearer to the firing-line and do more manual labor to relieve working men for the ranks of the army. Rations, he said, must be cut down.

"The only way to shorten the suffering and torment," the minister asserted, "is to increase the pace."

Referring to America's participation in the war, Mr. Churchill said: "You have accepted an immense responsibility. Never in history has so great a nation undertaken so great a task. Your aid is vitally needed in this great struggle, and needed soon."

PRASE GIVEN MEN ON TORPEDOED SHIP

Washington, Jan. 11.—Secretary Daniels made public today a summary of the official report of Lieutenant Commander David W. Bagley on the sinking by a German submarine of the American destroyer Jacob Jones on December 6, when two officers and 64 men lost their lives. Commander Bagley gives unstinted praise to the behavior of officers and men and especially commends by name ten of them.

Inquiry of Washington with regard to Arch Leedy, Newark boy who was a machinist on board the Jacob Jones, at the time of the catastrophe, brought forth the answer that he was listed among the "lost or missing" by the navy.

Friends and relatives of the Leedy boy have never given up hope that he may have been rescued.

GAME WARDEN WARNS AGAINST EATING THE FISH FROM LICKING

Zanesville, O., Jan. 11.—It has been brought to the attention of Game Warden J. W. Atwood that children in the old Zanesville and East Zanesville are breaking the law in the river by the state fish and game commission. Warden Atwood has issued a warning to the parents of the children not to let them eat the fish taken from the river, as it is dangerous to eat. Several fish were taken from the river by Mr. Atwood Wednesday afternoon.

HARD ON JOHN D.

New York, Jan. 11.—An increase in the personal property tax of John D. Rockefeller, who now pays on an assessment of $5,000,000, is suggested by Mayor Hylan in a letter to the president of the tax board, made public today.

The mayor stated that real estate was bearing an undue share of the burden of taxation in the city, and he also suggested that the city might follow the government scheme of "taxing excessive wealth that comes from excessive incomes."

CHANGE IN MEN'S STYLES.

New York, Jan. 11.—Men's clothes will be short of many of their trills this year owing to the war-needs for wool. It has been decided by the National Association of Clothing Designers at its sixteenth semi-annual convention in this city. The designers voted to eliminate "patch-pockets," belts, plaits and yokes, in order that thousands of yards of cloth might be taken from the civilian garb to be placed on the backs of soldiers.

INDIANA JURIST WOULD PROTECT STRONGER SEX

(Associated Press Telegram)

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—"We must protect our sex," Judge A. B. Anderson of the United States district court here said yesterday when he passed sentence on Bates Potter, his wife and stepdaughter, Bessie Whiteford of Vincennes, charged with using the mails to defraud men seeking wives. The Potters lived in a ramshackle house in the edge of Vincennes. They were said to have cleared about $3000 by means of their correspondence with men, whose names they obtained from a matrimonial paper.

"Were they preying on unsuspecting males?" Judge Anderson asked Assistant District Attorney Mangus. "Yes," said Mangus, who then told the court the scheme the Potters worked was to indicate they were willing to become the "wife" of any man who would send money for railroad fare and a wedding dress. In telling of the way they worked, Mrs. Potter said:

"That marriage paper that we got the names from just took the life as mine-run. She added that her niece became acquainted with her first husband in that way, 'and he was no good.'"

"The pictures we sent the men were just out of a movie magazine and pasted on a card, and if the men had been smart they would not have fell for us," Mrs. Potter said.

"Yes, but we are not smart when it comes to that," remarked Judge Anderson.

Potter was sentenced to jail for five months, his wife for four months, and Bessie Whiteford for one day. All three had pleaded guilty.

NOT ACCEPTING MEN SUBJECT TO DRAFT

Paris, Thursday, Jan. 10.—The American army and navy Y. M. C. A. in France issued a statement today that it is not accepting for its service any men who are eligible for military service. All men now in the Y. M. C. A. service who are subject to the draft have been requested, with the approval of the American army authorities to remain at their posts until their draft numbers are called. All eventually will be rejected by men over the draft age or those rejected for military service.

It is said that only ten per cent of the present Y. M. C. A. personnel in France consists of men subject to the draft and that nearly 50 per cent of those eligible, who arrived during the first six months the organization was established here, already have enlisted.

In response to an invitation from the Italian army headquarters, the American army and navy Y. M. C. A. will extend its recreation and comfort work to the Italian army.

OHIOANS CAN LOOK FOR RADICAL ORDER IN CONSERVING FOOD

Columbus, Jan. 11.—Radical measures to effect further saving of essential foods may be looked for in the near future by Ohioans according to an announcement made by Fred C. Croxson, federal food administrator for the state, who returned to his headquarters at Washington, after a conference with federal food administrator Hoover at Washington. Among changes being considered are:

1.—Two wheatless days in hotels and restaurants instead of one, as at present.

2.—One porkless day each week in addition to the present meatless day. The porkless day probably will be Saturday.

3.—Further limitation of wheat in the manufacture of bread by bakers.

4.—The plan under consideration would provide that only 50 per cent wheat flour could be used in the manufacture of bread, the other 50 per cent being composed of flour from other grains.

5.—Further restriction of flour in the manufacture of crackers and macaroni.

Administrator Croxson also announced that a plan may be inaugurated whereby wheat flour will be sold only in the form of a "wheatless" meal, in some localities sugar has been rationed, and in some a "wheatless" meal is being sold only in the form of a "wheatless" meal.

"Most important of all food problems at this time," said Mr. Croxson, "is the wheat problem. The nation is facing a powerful demand for wheat, and it is from this source that the government is making corn meal available at two prices."

Orders will be taken care of at once and Newark no longer suffers a coal famine.

Just this week Cedar Cliff also adopted an orphan. The Royal Neighbors have also purchased $200 worth of Liberty Bonds and already have $200 more available for the next issue.

CONSTIPATION IS A PENALTY OF AGE

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as freedom and normal activity of the bowels. It makes one feel younger and fresher, and forestalls colds, piles, fevers, and other dependent ills.

Cathartics and purgatives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it is far preferable. This is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It costs only fifty cents a bottle; a trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

WHAT NEWARK MEN THINK OF UNCLE SAM'S WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Senator J. Henry Miller: When any great enterprise involving the welfare of society is undertaken it is difficult for the individual to really appreciate its personal relationship to it. He can point out with fervor what his city, state or nation should do but in this, he does not consciously feel the duty he is really placing himself under as a citizen of the state or nation. We all know and feel that our nation is in this great war, but how many of us feel we are individually in the war? Only as we do this, can this great nation lay hold of its possible resources and turn them against the enemy. Perhaps in no possible way can this be done better than in the conservation of food, and the buying of Thrift Stamps. These two particulars, practically every individual can share. All could not buy a Liberty bond but who cannot buy a Thrift Stamp? What of the results? It puts the individual into the war. It is true, not behind the gun, but it puts a gun in the hands of the boy there who is fighting, and it is just as necessary to have the gun there as it is the boy. Besides, whoever buys a Thrift Stamp is twice paid for his expression of patriotism. First, in receiving a good rate of interest for the money he puts in and second, in being conscious of doing his duty in this hour of his country's great need. Let each buy Thrift Stamps. It is both patriotic and a splendid financial investment.

W. A. Robbins, president Franklin National Bank: It has been well said that every War Saving Stamp is a diminutive bond of the highest security the world affords, bought at a discount, and marketable in ten days and that, instead of coupons, your interest is funded for you. War Savings Certificates are certainly a good investment from every viewpoint. In connection with the subject of thrift and saving, it is pertinent to quote from the report of Auditor of State A. V. Donahy, "which reveals the amazing fact that while eighty cities collected taxes $26,411,178.00 for city purposes, one, it required $180,657.00 in excess of this vast revenue for the year to meet interest payments and retire bonds falling due. And that there was not one cent left for regular running expenses. There were exceptions among the list of eighty cities, but as a whole Ohio cities paid the salaries of every public official, constructed all improvements and met every dollar of regular running expenses, not from taxation but by means of new bond issues." If there was ever a time in the history of Ohio when true conservatism and respect and obedience to law is needed, it is now. Self-denial this very hour all over Ohio by nine-tenths of the men, women and children of the state. Buckeye boys by the scores of thousands are being called to the colors and many of them may be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. Surely the government of the people administered by their chosen representatives can make some sacrifice.

Dr. C. W. Chamberlain, president of Denison University: In addition to the ordinary peace requirements of the United States, which run high in the billions, the government will require for the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1918, $15,000,000,000 worth of material and the labor of men and women. If our armies at the front are to receive the material and supplies necessary for victory, the unarmed forces at home must economize. I heartily approve the War Savings plan, as its basic principle is the necessity of saving a step toward victory. Every Thrift Stamp purchased prevents a certain amount of money from being expended for something which consumes material and labor, both of which the government greatly needs, and places the purchaser in the position of competing with the government and greatly increases the expenses of the war. As long as the war lasts, it is our patriotic duty to economize in all ways. The War Savings Stamp issued by the government should appeal strongly to the small investor. The investment is secure, will sell readily and will bring large revenue to the government. The sale of War Savings Stamps contributes largely to the supply and conservation of labor, food and material and will help win the war.

T. B. Fulton, common pleas judge: Every citizen must bear his part in helping the government to win this war. Those of us who cannot go to the front must do all we can at home. We must furnish the funds to aid the government. Each of us should buy War Savings Stamps, bonds and other securities offered to us by the government. We must be economic in our expenditures, and must make sacrifices in order to be able to buy the offerings of the government. Our country would be worth very little to us if we fail to win this war.

LIEUT. PERIGORD FRENCH OFFICER IN NEWARK, JAN. 14

Characterized as one of the "most striking figures in the French army today," Lieut. Paul Perigord, Catholic priest, now an officer in the infantry of France and expert machine gun instructor, who will address a public mass meeting at the Newark high school auditorium next Monday evening, is declared by Americans who have been at the front to be better qualified to bring a message direct from the trenches than any other living man.

Wounded several times, decorated for valiant service, and assigned to service as an instructor of American soldiers now in training, Lieutenant Perigord will speak at Columbus Saturday evening at a great mass meeting and will address the students of Denison University Monday noon, speaking in Newark that night. His subject will be "From the Marne to Verdun," and will tell of his two years war experiences.

The Newark meeting is under the auspices of the Rotary club. It will be free to the public. No collection. President Clark B. Hatch will introduce Lieut. Perigord. The public is invited and as this brilliant young French officer will bring to this city a first hand picture of the great war the high school auditorium will no doubt be crowded. The meeting is to open at 8 o'clock.

The high school orchestra and the Mascine Glee club will furnish the music for the occasion and seven Rotarians will act as ushers.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease Has Been Found.

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by T. J. Evans and all druggists gives quick and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way. Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. M. C. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma. 1-4-3-11

NEPHEW ENLISTS IN THE AVIATION CORPS

The many friends in Newark of J. Bernard Maurath, nephew of E. J. Maurath, and former Newark boy, will be interested to learn he is in the army.

He has been located at San Francisco, Cal., and the San Francisco Chronicle of December 5, has the following to say of him:

"J. Bernard Maurath, one of the most successful automobile men identified with the local motor trade and of late a member of the H. V. Carter organization, has given up his berth here to join the colors. Maurath has enlisted with the 17th aviation corps and has already started in his training work."

A letter received from him by his aunt and uncle states that he is at the recruit depot, Fort McDowell, Angel Island, Cal. After enlisting he states he intended to leave for Texas but was transferred and it is his duty to keep the records of all the men that enlist in California and Nevada.

His address is: John B. Maurath, Fort McDowell, Angel Island, Co. 17, Angel Island, Cal.

BLOODHOUNDS COULD NOT LOCATE ROBBERS

Frazersburg, Jan. 11.—Bloodhounds were employed Thursday at Frazersburg in an unsuccessful endeavor to locate the robbers of the Ora Blizzard general store which was entered at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and about $6 in money and a considerable amount of merchandise taken. The dogs were from Breville.

Entrance was gained over the transome of the rear door after the burglar had worked on the front door. Papers from the safe, which was unlocked, were scattered about and a locked drawer was broken open. Flashlights and other articles were taken. Residents of the vicinity of the store heard noises about the store at 3 o'clock in the morning, but did not investigate.

ARRANGING FOR POULTRY SHOW IN THIS CITY

P. E. Anderson, a local breeder of Buff Orpingtons, is in Cleveland today, attending a meeting of the Ohio Breeders Association of which he is vice president. This meeting is held in connection with the Cleveland Poultry Show being held this week. Several Cleveland exhibitors will show their stock in Newark next week.

Mr. L. L. Mowles, Licking county's agriculture agent, will be very glad to have any one interested in poultry drop into his office for a visit. Mr. Mowles is nicely located in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The "thrilling touches" were put on the associations affairs for the big poultry show next week. From the interest shown by our people it is evident that the show will be a big success.

W. E. Westbrook, an East Side grocer, will exhibit a specimen of poultry that is a puzzle. Mr. Westbrook claims it crows like a $1.25 rooster and still lays $0.00 eggs.

Mr. Mowles will give a talk at the show rooms Thursday afternoon on the "Care and Management of Farm Poultry." This will be worth while. Come in.

SOLDIERS' MAIL.
The following ode to the "thin blankets" has been written by a soldier in camp at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., and is entitled "Me and My Two Thin Blankets."

I'm there with my army blankets
As thin as a slice of ham
A German spy I think was the guy
Who made 'em for Uncle Sam.

How do I sleep? Don't kid me.
My bed tick is filled with straw.
Filled with bumps and big fat bugs.
That puch me 'till I'm raw.

Me and my two thin blankets
As thin as the last thin dime
As thin I guess as a chorus girl's dress
Well I have a heck of a time.

I pull 'em up from the bottom
(My nighties are B. V. D.'s)
A couple of yanks to cover my shanks
And then my toolies freeze.

You could use 'em for porous plasters
My pillow's my shoes, when I try to snooze.
I've chilblains and coogs and croup.

Me and my two thin blankets,
Pulled up under my chin.
Yes, a German spy I think was the guy
And gosh! but he made 'em thin.

LAND-HUNGER.

Some people are never satisfied until they own a piece of real estate. They want a corner of God's earth that they can really call their own, from which no man can drive them so long as they pay their debts.
It is a very healthful and wholesome instinct, yet in the hands of undeveloped people it makes trouble. The Mexican revolution was largely due to the land-hunger of the peon. The Russian peasant is so upset over his chances to get some land that he can't fight for his country.
After the war great numbers of aliens will come over here with the hope to acquire a bit of soil. Among our own people there is too little land-hunger. Artisan populations dislike to tie themselves down to any one spot. They want to be free to pick up and go the moment a better job calls them. This works against the enrichment of the soil in the farm country, and against the improvement and beautification of town-life.
The alien that comes in here will take on some heavy burdens to get the title to land. He will pay down a small percentage of real money and sign up for a heavy mortgage. He works early and late with help of wife and children, and spends next to nothing for clothes or sports. He gets there, outdistancing many of the native stock who are held back by higher standards of living and more cautious spirit.
Any scheme to induce our people to take up the ownership of more land looks good.
When a man settles down to pay off a mortgage in Newark he establishes himself as a substantial citizen. The more he improves his place the more he helps on the community. People should have good courage about it. They should reflect that land and buildings will never be likely to bring less than now. If they pay down a small amount of cash, their equity on the property is likely to double in a few years.

WOMEN DRUMMERS.
The New York dress manufacturers are putting on a good many women as traveling "salesmen." This is a field formerly filled mostly by men. The last census shows 161,027 men employed as commercial travelers, and but 2593 women.
A facetious objector asks who will invite the prospects out for refreshments and peddle around the gossip and stories? Yet these New York manufacturers report that in many cases their women representatives are selling more goods than men.
Formerly commercial travelers were a sporty and convivial crowd.

1915—High water in the Aisne prevented the French from re-entrancing their line north of the river.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.
The Little Dipper is due north, low down; pole star (Polaris) above the pointers. Polaris' nearest bright neighbor is Deneb, near the horizon, west of north. Planet Venus growing bright.

who had many smart tricks for working the trade. The drummer was a breezy sort of a bluffer, and he coaxed, cajoled, or brow-beat his victim, if he could. Many people could be hypnotized by these arts.
Of late years the character and ability of commercial travelers has greatly improved. Buyers resent attempts to get their trade by indirection. The new women drummers will meet stiff competition. But the draft has taken many men away, and there is plenty of room for new workers. There will be women who will try the appeal of sex and flirtatious ways. But the business community is very suspicious. When it opens up shop it shuts out other considerations than business.
The successful saleswoman will make her approach impersonal, and on a strictly business basis. Women are usually better talkers than men. They have a keener intuition of what is going on in other people's minds. They ought to have a tactful and winning way of approaching a business deal. Clothing and house-furnishings are right in their line. They would know what would appeal to women. The coming years may see a big share of this field of effort given over to them. It's worth any ambitious woman's attention.

WHILE WAITING.
It takes patience to meet the conditions of a war period. Not merely in big anxieties, but in trifles that cause friction. For instance, all kinds of establishments just now are much upset by the absence of employees who have been drafted, and the public is inconvenienced.
Public service corporations, retail stores and offices are working under difficulties. They are breaking in green hands to take the place of skilled help, or perhaps, getting along with a reduced force. This leads to slow work and errors.
Some fretful people lose temper if they were to wait a few moments to get attention in a store or office. They should reflect what a trifling annoyance it is, and how small a part of the day's time they have lost. The overworked clerks are doing their best and they have the worst end of it. The public should accept inconveniences good-naturedly. They are a trifle compared with the anxieties many people have to bear.

INSURANCE.
The insurance offered by the United States government to members of its military and naval forces has been called the most just and humane provision ever made by any nation for its soldiers and sailors.
That its value and advantages are appreciated by the army and navy is evidenced by the extent which it has been availed of. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo officially announced on December 14 that 238,924 applications had already been received, representing $2,073,728,500 of insurance.
The average amount for applicants is $8679, which is very little less than the maximum of $10,000. The American forces in Europe were prompt in availing themselves of the insurance. General Pershing himself subscribing to the maximum of $10,000.

Pointed Observations

It is said to be the purpose of the American government to let the Russian people work out their own salvation, but that does not mean that we are willing to let 'em work out ours also.—Savannah News.
The Kaiser made no peace proposals; he merely observed that he'd quit fighting if they'd give him the lion's share of everything in and out of sight.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.
Meatless days in Omaha have occasioned such an accumulation of beef and mutton at that packing center that something startling may have to be done to keep the price from dropping.—Dallas News.
The British army consumes 2,000,000 pounds of jam a week, which it gets from this country, says a London paper. Probably gets it from the railroads.—Washington Herald.

Albert Kalschmidt says that with $20,000 he could have defeated President Wilson. But what good would that have done the German cause? Charles E. Hughes as president would have done just what President Wilson did.—Buffalo Enquirer.
A lantern of Washington, D. C., went out the other night and thieves got away with a ton of coal piled in front of his house. "Lightless" nights are supposed to serve the ends of economy, but they seem to be exceptions.—Kansas City Journal.
Hats off again to the French! General Crowder says that not one citizen of France in this country has used his citizenship as the basis of a claim for draft exemption.—Boston Herald.

THE FOURTEENTH COMMANDMENTS.
(Philadelphia Record.)
The President has furnished Germany with a specific and categorical list of our fourteen war aims, the Fourteen Commandments, which Germany and its dupes or victims have got to accept if they want peace. He is in close accord with Mr. Lloyd George, and is even more precise and specific. There is no opportunity for any one, friend or foe, to misunderstand the purposes of the United States.
And not one of the fourteen demands is of any benefit to us, except so far as the family of civilized nations devoted to peace, and anxious only to secure the safety of itself and of other nations, whose governments rest upon the consent of the governed, and in which there is at least a substantial approximation to the fundamental principle of government of the people, by the people and for the people.
We have no concern with the internal affairs of Germany, no disposition to change its government, no purpose of dismembering the empire. But when we negotiate we have got to know with whom we are negotiating; whether they are the representatives of the German people, or the representatives of the Hohenzollerns and the military caste. And Germany has got to give up its part of Poland, so that there may be a restored Kingdom of the Poles, with access to the sea, and it must restore Alsace-Lorraine to France, because the provinces were taken from France by violence and in contempt of the wishes of the population. A government which the people of Alsace-Lorraine do not accept has no right over those provinces.
While we have no purpose of dismembering the Dual Monarchy or Turkey, "the peoples of Austria-Hungary, whose place among the nations we wish to see safeguarded and secured, should be accorded the earliest opportunity of autonomous development," and the Italian provinces held by Austria by military power must be restored to Italy, not for the sake of Italy, but for the sake of the Italians now under an alien and hated rule.
Of course, Belgium must be evacuated and restored and the occupied portions of France must be evacuated. There can be no peace while German soldiers are in countries where they have no right. And Rumania and Servia and Montenegro must be restored, and Servia provided with an outlet to the sea. The non-Turkish nationalities in the Ottoman empire "should be assured an undoubted security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage to the ships and commerce of all nations under international guarantees."
There is much in the address calculated to encourage the Russians in their effort to create a free state out of the servile subjects of an autocrat. There is not one word of vindictiveness to the Germans, or of animosity, and what the President says of the freedom of the seas meets a leading German demand, and his references to trade after the war removes a serious German apprehension.
But the fourteen propositions of the President are absolutely necessary to the establishment of justice and a lasting peace in the world. Germany might as well assent to them now as later. To them she will come ultimately—what is left of her. The civilized world can afford to take no less.

Spirit of the Press
A Moment of Optimism.
The country accepts government control of the railroads with enthusiasm, and will submit to every requirement in connection with it. It is at this moment enjoying the stimulating effect of a dose of optimism. Even Canada is getting the benefit of the wave. But the country has no delusions. The re-concentration of the country's transportation service is a big task. The task is cut out not only for the director of railroads and his coadjutor from the railroads themselves, but for the general public. We are all a part of the scheme, and all must follow it loyally. After its moments of optimism, the country will go to work and work harder than ever.—Boston Transcript.
The Biggest of All Gambles.
The biggest gambling game in this country is farming, and it goes on night and day, the year 'round with more and greater odds against the better than has any other game. The farmer bets his time, money, labor and life against the weather, insect pests, trusts, and storage sharks, and, if he wins against those odds, he, very likely, must overcome railroad blockades or rate pools. The country's greatest concern should be that the farmer win his bet. Government should see to it that he has money on easy terms, seed in plenty, and the necessary tools, especially tractors and other devices for producing much at the minimum outlay of labor.—Washington Herald.
Not to Be Returned.
Peace on the basis of no annexations and no indemnities would mean that Jerusalem and all of Palestine now in the possession of the British must be returned to the Turks. It would mean that Armenia must be again turned over to the tender mercies of the Turks. Peace on the terms now under discussion by Germany and Russia and to which all the allied nations are asked to agree would mean that Syria and Armenia must be returned to the Turks and massacres in those lands would follow the proclamation of the restoration of peace. The Holy Land should never be permitted to go back to the Turks. Neither should Armenia.—Anaconda Standard.
Hope for Belgian Survival.
Belgium and Armenia, the work of the Teutons and the Turk, will be remembered for generations. Neither of the national criminals will ever live down the infamy of its devastation. Whether any of the Belgians can survive the German savagery

Why Our Soldiers Wait For Clothing
Soldiers can not march without shoes or resist pneumonia in a winter of record-breaking severity without warm clothing and sufficient shelter.
The testimony of General Sharpe before the Senate's Investigation Committee on the shortage of clothing supplies for the soldiers, appeals to many an editor in the United States as a most remarkable and instructive account of "the circumlocutory routine and the general red tapery" of the operations of the War Department.
On the other hand the net result of a canvass among members of Congress and officials of the Government Departments made by the New York Times brings that journal "to the conclusion that the Government has accomplished a vast amount of work considering the short time elapsed since it began to make preparations in earnest; that there had been some serious mistakes and delays, but that the activity of the War Department is at last distinctly on the upgrade."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 12th, one of the most enlightening articles in this unusually good number deals with the Congressional investigation of the War Department and voices the editorial opinion of the country upon the disclosures. Many illuminating details are presented, and the article is one that will hold the interest of every reader.

Other important topics in this issue of THE DIGEST are:

The People Who Read "The Digest"
The best test of any periodical is the class of its readers. Character in a magazine or a newspaper attracts men and women of standing and judgment as inevitably as a flower draws the bee, and for the same reason. It suits their taste. Glance around you in the train, on the street-cars, in hotel lobbies, wherever your fellow humans congregate, and note the people who read THE LITERARY DIGEST. They are the best type. They buy "The Digest" because they know it is accurate, impartial, wholesome, comprehensive, and up-to-date, because they can take it home to their children with confidence, and because it covers the world's news as no other periodical does. Are you with them?

Why Our Soldiers Wait For Clothing
Soldiers can not march without shoes or resist pneumonia in a winter of record-breaking severity without warm clothing and sufficient shelter.
The testimony of General Sharpe before the Senate's Investigation Committee on the shortage of clothing supplies for the soldiers, appeals to many an editor in the United States as a most remarkable and instructive account of "the circumlocutory routine and the general red tapery" of the operations of the War Department.
On the other hand the net result of a canvass among members of Congress and officials of the Government Departments made by the New York Times brings that journal "to the conclusion that the Government has accomplished a vast amount of work considering the short time elapsed since it began to make preparations in earnest; that there had been some serious mistakes and delays, but that the activity of the War Department is at last distinctly on the upgrade."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 12th, one of the most enlightening articles in this unusually good number deals with the Congressional investigation of the War Department and voices the editorial opinion of the country upon the disclosures. Many illuminating details are presented, and the article is one that will hold the interest of every reader.

The People Who Read "The Digest"
The best test of any periodical is the class of its readers. Character in a magazine or a newspaper attracts men and women of standing and judgment as inevitably as a flower draws the bee, and for the same reason. It suits their taste. Glance around you in the train, on the street-cars, in hotel lobbies, wherever your fellow humans congregate, and note the people who read THE LITERARY DIGEST. They are the best type. They buy "The Digest" because they know it is accurate, impartial, wholesome, comprehensive, and up-to-date, because they can take it home to their children with confidence, and because it covers the world's news as no other periodical does. Are you with them?

ACTIVE WORK IS IN PROGRESS AT TRAINING CAMP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Jan. 11.—Ten candidates in the officers' training camp which opened here last Saturday, constitute a big problem to their officers on the score of their entry into the service of Uncle Sam from civilian life. The regulations governing the admission of civilian candidates into the training camp provided that men should not enlist but should have their draft numbers moved up and their local draft boards should be credited as though they had been drafted.

The 10 civilians in question were not of age when the draft law went into effect and did not register. They have since become of age and yet are not amenable to the draft law as it stands. Officers are puzzled how to regard them. They cannot be inducted into the national army, the officers declared today, because they do not come under its provisions. They cannot be regarded as enlisted men for there is no provision under which they can come.

Meanwhile where other civilians are being legally inducted into the service through letters which were sent out today from headquarters of the training camp to local draft board officials, these 10 men are technically without a place in the officers' camp, one officer said. Colonel Hannah, in command of the camp, predicts that some way will be found out of the difficulty.

Infantry candidates today took up the theory of signaling, especially semaphore work, in lectures. Their comrades of the artillery had their first practice with semaphore signals yesterday.

This evening all of the candidates were given a chance to discuss the results of their first week in camp, following a talk by company commanders on the objects of the work this week. Tomorrow all of the platoon will compete for first honors in platoon drill. All of the officers assigned to the training school are publicly announcing their praise of the way the candidates handle themselves.

Y. M. C. A. officials report a generous response from the Ohio people to their appeal for more entertainers for the selects while the cold weather continues. It was said today that upwards of two dozen offers from Columbus, Akron and other cities have been received.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, of which Victor Herbert is conductor, will give a concert for the benefit of the selects next week.

Inter-company basketball competition will start next week, according to an announcement from division Athletic Director Ed S. Conner today. Games will be played until sometime in April, if the division stays here that long, it was said.

Skiing has been made possible for the selects by granting of permission to use a large pond adjoining the west end of the cantonment. Skating races as well as hockey competition are being arranged under the supervision of the athletic director.

EASY MATTER FOR MEN OR WOMEN TO BUILD UP STRENGTH

According to This Lady Who Regained Her Weight, Found New Strength and Vigor In Just Ordinary Iron Remedy

Highly Concentrated, It is More Powerful, Cheaper Than and Goes Twice as Far.

"I suffered for years with various troubles. I seemed all run down and falling fast. I imagine it was stomach trouble and liver principally that brought on all the complications that came later. I tried several doctors and sent away to Buffalo, N. Y., but their medicine did me no good. Indigestion, sour, bitter eructations from my stomach. Flatulence, biliousness, torpid liver, weak and nervous feeling, headaches, poor blood and catarrh of long standing, head noises and aches and pains until honestly when I look back at those months and months of suffering I wonder how I stood it all. Trying to keep store and look cheerful with such ailments tugging and pulling you down is a awful hard. I owe my relief to a salesman who walked in one day when I was suffering particularly bad and he told me about Acid Iron Mineral. He had been troubled the same way I was until he took Acid Iron Mineral and so on his recommendation I started taking this great remedy. I took three bottles and it did me a world of good. I felt better than I have in years. I am blessed with wonderful health and strength, thanks to A-I-M and I now weigh 150 pounds, while before taking it I had almost given up ever being well and strong again. I praise it because I'm sure there can be no medicine on the market today that will beat Acid Iron Mineral," enthusiastically states Mrs. E. Short, of Van Dyke, Va.

Anyone, by taking a few drops of Acid Iron Mineral mixed in water two or three times a day can be benefited wonderfully. It is just plain, highly concentrated natural iron. It is more powerful and cheaper than weaker prepared pills or preparations containing iron as the chief medicinal element. Everyone knows iron is good for the blood and whole system, building people up almost like magic. The reason is plain. To make rich blood you must have iron. Without rich, red blood your strength leaves you, blood gets clogged very often with uric acid causing rheumatism troubles and the whole system becomes weakened and run down.

Being very powerful a few drops in a glass of water makes a dose. It is sold only in original bottles under A-I-M trademark on the bottle and carton. This is your guarantee of full strength and quality. Most druggists have it and a twelve ounce bottle costs but a dollar and is a splendid investment if the reader is in search of something to cleanse, build up and strengthen the system. Pallid, yellow complexions soon disappear if the thousands of users of the past thirty years are to be believed. Get a bottle today.—Advertisement.

USE HEARSE FOR A PATROL WAGON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Jan. 11.—Commandeering of a black automobile hearse to take two negro prisoners to a police station caused a hard fight for two policemen and much excitement in the "black belt" on the South Side last night. No patrol wagon being available, a policeman hailed a passing hearse. The prisoners were placed in superstitious fear not to be placed in such a conveyance, and finally fought to prevent it. It took the combined efforts of several policemen and civilians to force the men into the hearse and to hold them there until the station was reached.

CHANCE FOR INVENTORS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Jan. 11.—Referring to the report that it is intended to drop a million copies of President Wilson's address in Germany from airplanes, the Daily Chronicle, while thinking the idea excellent and that if every German could read the address it might lead to a national strike against the war, recalls Germany's recent announcement that pilots caught dropping propaganda would be shot as spies. Accordingly, the paper appeals to inventors to produce a machine which of itself will drop propaganda.

Our Boys and Girls

Baby should have a special laundry bag. A pretty one may be made of denim in old blue embroidered in white. Have the bag stamped with a decoration of stars and, if you wish, have the baby's monogram on it as well. The whole design may be done in cross stitch, a simple tapestry stitch or even the old outline stitch. The bag, in brown linen or denim, and worked in brown, is, of course, less likely to soil, but the blue and white seems more appropriate for the baby.

There usually comes a time, about four or five years old, when a child struggles against naps. This is the time you must not only be firm with him but you must be tactful. If one day passes without a nap you will find your child irritable and nervous and the next day you will have a battle before you. Often in a case like this you can sit by the bed of a nervous child, lay your hand lightly but firmly on his forehead and eyes and check all desire to talk or fuss about.

The room should always be darkened, as free from noise as possible, and the child must be neither too warm or too cold. Moon sleep with fresh air is not only the best medicine for, but the best preventative against disease.

MOTHERS OF OHIO

Prepare for Trouble!

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. Many thousands in Ohio would testify just as do the following:

CLEVELAND, O.—"When passing through the symptoms which come to women of 45, I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is just right for that period of life, and I do not hesitate to recommend it."—MRS. MARY E. LUCAS, 3115 Benton Ave.

DAYTON, OHIO.—"It is a pleasure to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was used for woman's trouble. I had used other remedies with little benefit. I was dragging around and tired out but when I had taken several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' I was much stronger and better; it did me more good than any medicine I ever took. I shall always recommend it and will use it again if I need it."—MRS. NELLIE M. ALLEN, 43 Adrian St.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was in very bad condition, all run down, weak and nervous. I got so thin I was a walking skeleton. I tried different medicines, also had the doctor, but did not get any relief. At last decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and this medicine completely cured me of my trouble and built me up in a good, strong, healthy condition. I think it the only medicine for women and am glad to recommend it."—MRS. ELIZABETH JORDAN, 4724 Tullman Avenue.

ance of the latter is apt to show itself in the complexion.

As a rule, if a girl finds herself with an interesting book and a box of chocolates, she is apt to let her sweet taste run away with her good sense and the next morning, when she awakes, she has an unpleasant taste in her mouth. Unfortunately, this is not her chief complaint. A disagreeable breath is the result of the upset stomach following a large consumption of candy.

Many girls are worried about the unpleasantness of their breath about which the members of their family inform them. When you intend to indulge in candy, buy only the finest grade, eat in moderation and always after meals.

The trouble with the eating begins in girlhood. How does the average girl eat, you ask. A cup of coffee or chocolate and, perhaps, some heavy, indigestible cakes for her breakfast, carefully avoiding an egg or a slice of bacon which contains real nourishment. For lunch she may eat a pickle, a piece of pie or a nut sundae.

She should be very careful to eat wholesome, nourishing food and eat only at the table and at regular hours.

Every Day Etiquette

"Is it considered good form to use the letters R S V P. on an invitation?" asked Ida.

"The abbreviation is practically obsolete, the favored form at present being 'Please respond.' As a matter of fact favored guests should have the courtesy to answer without a reminder," replied her sister.

A proud lineage may be a social asset, but many a family tree bears nothing but wall flowers.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifid coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifid coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. (Advertisement)

AMUSEMENTS

ALHAMBRA.

Photoplay patrons, the country over have responded with great enthusiasm to the appearance of the early tripartite plays, starring Douglas Fairbanks, because they were the pictures, the unquestioned merits of which really ruled Fairbanks to stardom in the film world. One of the first of these plays, "Reggie Mixes In," reveals Fairbanks as screen player of marked adaptability and with the highest kind of animation demanded by the silent drama. This play introduced to motion picture audiences the famous Fairbanks' grin and dynamic energy that arrests every scene with a decided punch.

Without reflecting in any way on the pictures Fairbanks has made of late, it is certain that there is a tense earnestness in the work of any player engaged for the first time in achieving his niche.

GRAND.

"Vengeance and the Woman." A thrilling climax is promised in the second episode of "Vengeance and the Woman," the Greater Vitaphone serial. It will be seen at the Grand theatre, on Saturday. Riding for her life down a canyon whose walls rise sheer to one hundred feet on either side, a girl is caught in the noose of a harrier thrown with amazing power and accuracy by an Indian crouched on the top of one of the canyon walls. She is snatched from the saddle and hurled violently against the side of the cliff. The Indian starts to lead her to the top of the cliff and has drawn her some thirty feet when Black Jack and the Johnson outlaw leaders, ride into the canyon. The girl is lowered and the bandits place her on a horse and ride away with her to their rendezvous in a wild mountain pass.

Feats with modern weapons are so common to the common player that the red man never fails to thrill. Coman-Pete's feat in jangling Carol Halloway from her horse and hauling her up into space, at the behest of a bandit chief is just one of the "thrillers" which make "Vengeance and the Woman," the most wonderfully absorbing melodrama serial ever screened. William Duncan directs the picture and plays the leading male role, with Miss Holloway as "the woman."

LYRIC.

Nancy Boyer Coming. Much interest has been aroused over the announcement that Nancy Boyer, the noted comedienne is to head next week's bill at the Lyric theatre. In a new one-act playlet, entitled "Her First Kiss." While this is Miss Boyer's first season in Vaudeville, she has long been a popular favorite on the dramatic stage, and needs no introduction to a Newark audience. Miss Boyer is supported by an exceptional string of cast, which includes Arthur Chatterton, Henry Testa, Jane Tarr and Harry Hamilton. The act is beautifully mounted.

AUDITORIUM.

"You're In Love." Not unlike its worthy predecessors, "Katinka," "High Jinks" and "The Firefly," by the same author and composer, leaped into popularity with a bound, owing as much to the picturesque production, as to the music. Arthur Hammerstein, as to the many-sided attractiveness of its diversified offerings, Mr. Hammerstein is a past master in the artful skill of providing just such essential elements as go far towards insuring pleasure results in every direction. As he felt the pulse of the amusement public regarding the possibility of his former attainments, so did he contrive to embody the fetching ideas of comedy interwoven with tuneful songs in "You're In Love," a musical comedy out of the ordinary and one which has scored and held a firm place in the affections of popular amusement.

Kept up to meet the highest expectations, "You're In Love" is rich in scenic and costume equipment, and its presentation here at the Auditorium this evening is an event to be remembered. The advance sale is large, but there still remains many choice reservations, but the management advises all to secure them at once, for to delay might mean not getting seats that you wish. All telephone orders must be taken up before 8 o'clock, or they, otherwise they will be placed on sale.

Valeska Suratt. Tomorrow at the Auditorium picture fans will welcome a return of "The Queen of Fashion" Valeska Suratt, who is seen in one of her former successes, "The New York Peacock." This is a six part William Fox story, in which Miss Suratt plays a sort of "Empire Role" and she sure can play it. In this Miss Suratt as the gambler's tool, prevailing on the innocent youth from the country who wandered to the city with much coin.

Harry Hillard as the country boy, is good, in fact he is always good. Hillard may be remembered as having been June Caprice's leading man and in this he is equally as good, perhaps better than he has appeared in other parts. Besides the Hearst-Pathe News, always a feature at this house, Mr. Fenberg will make the first screening for Newark of the new William Fox Sunday comedies. The two comedies are called "Shadows of Her Past" and is said to be the most laughable screen product ever shown at the Auditorium. The shows tomorrow are continuous.

"A Branded Soul." A modern St. Elmo type of the woman played by Gladys Brockwell in her newest big photoplay for William Fox, "A Branded Soul," is a picture full of action and artistry from one end to the other, comes to the Auditorium this Sunday.

Mexico shown in this production. The intimate life of the great republic to the South, forms a picturesque background to a series of incidents which approach their great climax in the burning of an oil field and the destruction of a fortune.

Miss Brockwell is Conchita Cordova, girl of the people. She first attracts the notice of John Ramon, a playboy, by rebelling against his deprecations. He has ordered his men to tear up a church, and in their search for new oil lands and new wealth. And Conchita defies him to continue the work. This feature will be the headline for picture fans at the Auditorium Sunday and will be shown together with a two reel comedy to be announced later, also the Cleveland Plain Dealer magazine in which scenes are shown from Camp Sheridan at Montgomery.

"The Princess Pat." Seldom, if ever before, has a musical comedy "caught on" as the stage goes, as has Henry Blossom-Victor Herbert's effort "The Princess Pat." Last season it began its career at the Cort Theatre, a New York theatre, where it triumphed and shepherded through its excellence remained at that theatre for over six months. It would seem from the way in which it was immediately accepted by music lovers that it was just the sort of entertainment for which they had been longing and the substantial support given to this charming musical comedy has created a regime for like offerings. To "The Princess Pat," Mr. Blossom has it said, written a book that takes rank with the best that he has given the American stage added to which he has written the lyrics for the twenty numbers of the comedy which are among Mr. Herbert's most notable compositions. The company will be seen in "The Princess Pat" when it is presented at the Auditorium, Newark, for a night performance only, Thursday, January 17.

"The Woman God Forgot." Geraldine Farrar, the noted prima donna, will make her debut under the Artcraft trade-mark at the Auditorium next Tuesday. In "The Woman God Forgot," a spectacular photoplay written especially for her by Jennie Macpherson, and produced under the personal direction of Cecil B. DeMille, the noted director. In the few photoplays in which Geraldine Farrar has appeared, she has established herself as the leading emotional actress of the film. Her first appearance, "Carmen," and her recent production, "Joan the Woman," have been the sensations of the photodramatic world. Jennie Macpherson, who wrote the story of "Joan the Woman," is also responsible for the authorship of "The Woman God Forgot," and for Mary Pickford's recent productions.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves
Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.—Advertisement.

"The Little American" and "A Romance of the Redwoods." For her theme in "The Woman God Forgot" Miss Macpherson has taken the story of a Princess who sells her country for the man she loves. The whole story is taken from a chapter in the early history of America, telling how the Spanish invaded Mexico and of their conquest of Montezuma and his Aztecs. Geraldine Farrar is seen in Tezca, daughter of Montezuma. She falls in love with a handsome young Spaniard, which role is played by the ever-popular star, Wallace Reid.

Mme. Leginska. The musical event of the entire season occurs at the Auditorium next Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock, when Mme. Leginska, noted lady pianist makes her first appearance before a Newark audience. This celebrated artist is being brought to the city at a great expense and should be greeted by a crowded house. This wonderful little lady comes to Newark from Chicago where she gives a concert Saturday at the large Orchestra Hall, which seats nearly 3000 people. Seats were placed on sale for this concert this morning at the Auditorium and it is good news to state that indications point to Mme. Leginska's pleasure in every house Monday evening. Miss Leginska has requested of the management to try and have the "pew" in the front seat at 8:15 sharp, for she has given orders that none be seated during any number she plays.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAD THE WORLD

They Have Beauty, Health and Brains.

"A really beautiful woman is always a healthy woman," remarked one of our noted beauty specialists, "for true beauty comes from the blood and strong, steady nerves."

Rich, red blood, the fountain of life and youth, shows itself in a clear, rosy skin, solid flesh, fine form and a keen bright mind. Red blooded women, with strong nervous vitality, are sought after by men; they are the hope and leaders of the world.

American women lead the world in health, beauty and intelligence, and their number is increasing. They have learned the value of iron and phosphates in keeping them in perfect condition.

"The number of weak, pale, fagged out, run down and nervous women is bound to decrease rapidly, once the power of Phosphated Iron becomes more generally known," said a leading doctor. "There is not a reason in the world why women should not be strong, happy and a joy to look upon when the remedy is at hand."

"Phosphated Iron has accomplished wonders with my patients. It has restored health, vitality, strong nerves and happiness to whole families. It's the healthy, red, iron blooded, strong, phosphate-fed nerves men and women that enjoy life and lead in every work." Think it over!

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets. Insist on capsules Evans' Drug Store and leading drug stores everywhere.—Advertisement.

Two drill teams directed by J. B. Lentz and E. J. Severance.

J. Grove, the stirring Keeper of Records and Seals, in taken of the appreciation of the lodge for his untiring efforts to make the members of the lodge during the ten years he held the above office, was presented with a solid gold watch and a member of the Newark Lodge, a gold chain by the Uniformed Rank and a Pythian chain by the Newark Lodge.

The presentations were made by Mr. Ashcraft and Mr. Grove, deeply affected under the circumstance, responded with two vocal solos, "Somewhere in France there's a Lily" and "Are You Prepared to Love Me Frank Street."

During the evening six pieces of music directed by Oscar Lampton furnished the music. The meeting was concluded by the grand singing "America."

The program proved a great success and was enjoyed by everyone. All credit is due the committee of arrangements for the successful manner in which the evening was conducted. The committee was composed of E. L. Schindler, J. E. Grafton, H. C. Ashcraft, W. J. Johnson and Lester Newark.

MEETS OLD FRIEND FOR FIRST TIME IN NUMBER OF YEARS

Fred S. Lorraine, business representative for "The Princess Pat" attraction, arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon and was agreeably surprised when he entered the office of the Auditorium to find it in charge of Manager Geo. M. Penberg. The two men were warm friends, in the east and in the New England states in the days of the Fenberg Stock Company and the meeting yesterday was in the nature of a reunion and they sat up long after midnight discussing the good old days.

Mr. Lorraine came from Wheeling, W. Va. where he met Fred E. Johnson, business manager of the Court theatre, and former manager of the Auditorium. Mr. Johnson has had a successful season at Wheeling and reports a splendid business. He admonished Mr. Lorraine to kindly remember his Newark friends and hopes some day to return and pay them a visit.

"Princess Pat" is Victor Herbert's latest opera, and the success scored by this writer of musical comedies is well known to everyone in the show business country. His "Red Mill," "The Prima Donna," and "Mélodie Modiste," are among his best known scores but it remained for "Princess Pat" to appeal to all with its tuneful and harmonious songs and splendid comedy lines.

Mr. Lorraine assures Auditorium patrons that the company which he is bringing to Newark is the regular city attraction with all its special scenery and electrical effects and the same personnel of members who assisted in making one of the big metropolitan successes.

FORMER NEWARKITE ATTAINS HONOR IN UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

The many friends of Clarence V. Kinney will be interested to hear something of what he has been doing since he left Newark 20 years ago. In 1897 he enlisted in the navy as an ordinary seaman and has been promoted up through the ranks until today he holds the office of chief quartermaster. He has been in every civilized country in the world, and his many experiences over the world would fill volumes. He participated in the battle of Santiago in the Spanish-American war; saw service as a landsman in the siege of Pekin, China, and in the Philippines. During the trouble with Mexico he was stationed on the battleship Colorado which was anchored just off the coast of Mexico. From the last reports he was still located on the Colorado.

According to the old rule of the navy he is eligible to retirement next June. When a man re-enlists in the navy in a foreign country he is given credit for two years' service. Mr. Kinney has re-enlisted twice in foreign service and by serving 21 years, which end next June, he will be given credit for 23 years' service, which entitles him to retire at $143 per month. He will serve throughout the war and at the end of that time will retire to a farm of 160 acres which he owns in Michigan.

In 1889 he and his brother, John, were left orphans by the death of their father, who was killed in a wreck at the Union street crossing. They were reared by Dr. D. W. Winters and lived at the corner of Fourth and Locust streets. Clarence is married and his wife operates a millinery store in Bremerton, Wash. His address is: Clarence V. Kinney, chief quartermaster, U. S. N., Bremerton, Wash., care of postmaster. John Kinney has spent the greater part of his life in the army and at present is stationed at the United States recruiting station, 221 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, O., Jan. 11.—Prof. C. D. Coons, chairman of the Licking county draft board, No. 1, reports an unusual occurrence in his experience with draftees. Russell A. Currin, a junior in Denison University, a son of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Currin of Cleveland, who was scheduled to go with the next quota to camp, became impatient for action and asked to be sent at once. Accordingly, special mobilization papers were secured and on Thursday the local board inducted him into military service. He left at once for Camp Sherman, carrying his own credentials for man carrying his own credentials for presentation to the adjutant. Mr. Currin leaves a promising academic career, and the many college activities in which he took a prominent part. He is a younger brother of W. J. Currin, '12, who enlisted with a Canadian regiment at the beginning of the war; re-enlisted at the end of three years, and met his death last fall from wounds received in action on the western front. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, where he received the characteristic nickname of "Happy," by which he is generally known.

Before sending magazines to A. F. F. W. headquarters where one-cent stamps are to be affixed, the donors should be sure that they carry the printed invitation to "place a one-cent stamp on this notice, hand same to any United States postal employee, and it will be placed in the hands of our soldiers or sailors at the front. No wrapping; no address. A. S. Burleson, postmaster general."

Not all of the periodicals carry this notice. So, examine your magazines before sending them. The question is current numbers: "as soon as you finish reading," most of the notices read.

The Engstrom chorus, under direction of K. H. Eschman, has begun work on the opera of "Tannhauser," to be sung in March with accompaniment by the famous New York Symphony. The rehearsal in Recital Hall, Wednesday evening, was well-attended, and regular Monday evening practice hours must be observed by the members in the brief time interval before the festival concert. New members desirous of joining the chorus, or old-time members who wish to renew their membership, should present themselves for the next rehearsal. This is the opportunity of a lifetime. Bulletin board at the postoffice gives notice of extra rehearsals.

The semester recital of Denison Conservatory will be given on the evening of Thursday, January 24, in Recital Hall.

Director K. H. Eschman of the conservatory, announces an organ recital to be given in the Baptist church on the evening of January 23, which should fill the auditorium. The artist will be Gatty Sellers, for sixteen years the organist for the Guild Hall, London, England. He brings cathedral chimes and his program will include numbers with a more or less popular appeal. An unusual opportunity for music-lovers.

The Pioneer Mending Bee was entertained at the home of Mrs. D. D. Darnell.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION!
IN PRICES. A complete turmoil according to present day prices. As we said before, we have got to keep our stock moving, and by gosh, we are moving it with a vengeance too. Here's where we put the runners under another batch of choice bargains. "The more the merrier" is our motto, so we have put on more big values than ever. There is one favor we ask of you, that is, that you attend this sale on the date given. We have had a number of customers come several days after the sale date and ask for some advertised articles. We couldn't let them have it, for we most always sell out on these items. Don't be one of the disappointed ones. Look these prices over, and make a dash for a STAR GROCERY.
